

A LEFT, RIGHT, LEFT CHRISTMAS

Once upon a crisp fall day, a woman named _____ Wright left her cozy home, left her cute kids, left her cuddly husband, left her pets, left her sink full of dirty dishes so she would be right on time to get started on her Christmas shopping. Yes, you are right! She was going to a Premier Jewelry Show! She had received an invitation and right then realized there were only _____ weeks left for Christmas shopping. As she entered her friend's home, she looked to the left and she looked to the right and in her mind, she checked her Christmas list twice. Because she was afraid of missing a name, she was very careful to be sure no one was left off her list. _____ had a great time right there in her friend's living room. She and the other guests played the left, right, left game. They were having so much fun. They saw lots of earrings, necklaces, rings and pins. They were so beautiful, it left _____ wanting some for herself also. Right then, _____ knew she didn't just want to be Santa's helper. She also wanted to get decked out herself. She had a big problem. Because of her budget, someone would get left off her Christmas list. But then she remembered the great hostess benefits and decided to book a home show right away!
